

NIGHT WAR

Police in Cambridge, Md., followed in Watery, Conn., and small, persistent rain of rain to help root groups of rioting and looting Negroes on the city's North End early today. At least one Negro was reported shot and 15 were arrested.

New York was quiet again Thursday night, and in Phoenix, Ariz., a curfew appeared to have brought an abrupt halt to two nights of violence.

In Philadelphia, Mayor James H. Tate invoked a 117-year-old law placing the city under a state of limited emergency for fear that scattered disorders might erupt into full-scale rioting.

The statute gives police authority to arrest all persons in groups of 12 or more unless they're engaged in organized recreation. The police were working 12-hour shifts with days off and vacations canceled.

Rain helped hold down incidents in Chicago where there were 11 more arrests Thursday. Firemen answering a false alarm were pelted with bottles and firebombs but no injuries were reported.

Both Sacramento, Calif., and Seattle, Wash., experienced disturbances by youths. In the California city the police chief called it the worst in three nights as two dozen minor fires were started.

In Detroit Thursday, United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther announced that the combined forces of the labor movement in the Motor City have pledged to remove "the ugly scars of our hours of madness."

Race Crisis Is Hounding President

By JAMES MARLOW

AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — These have been a painful couple of years to President Johnson. The sun was shining, or he thought so. Then the storm broke and he was standing in the midst of thunder and lightning.

It was just a little over two years ago — in June 1965 — that he told the graduating class of Howard University here: "Our earth is the home of revolution."

In this speech, acknowledging the injustice inflicted on the American Negro for centuries, Johnson said: "Nothing is more freighted with meaning for our own destiny than the revolution of the American Negro."

He did not mean revolution by violence in this country but by progress. He wasn't thinking of violence then.

But this week the loud-mouthed leader of a Negro organization, the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, H. Rap Brown said: "We stand on the eve of a black revolution."

Brown had been charged with inciting a riot in Cambridge, Md., where Negroes burned down the center of the Negro section while riots devastated Detroit and swept other cities from coast to coast.

A month after his Howard University talk Johnson pledged himself to a major effort to solve the problems confronting Negroes. "I am going to provide all the leadership I can," he said.

But less than a month after that Negro rioters saturated the Los Angeles section of Watts with killings, burning and looting. This shocked the nation and Johnson, too.

He quickly made another speech, deploring violence, denouncing the Watts upheaval, declaring riots must be exposed and dealt with in the same way as klansmen in sheets and masks.

He tried to find words to describe rioters, white or Negro, but, as it turned out he was a lot more restrained than he was going to be later.

He said at that time: "A rioter with a Molotov cocktail in his hands is not fighting for civil rights any more than a klansman with a sheet on his back and a mask on his face."

"They are both more or less what the law declared them: lawbreakers."

He sounded a little mournful and very frustrated as he spoke on the heels of the Watts riot and looked back on his years in Congress and the presidency.

"During the past decade," he said, "more of my energy has been spent on protecting and preserving and writing into law, through the legislative halls, the rights of all Americans than I have spent on any single subject or any half-dozen subjects."

And there is no doubt he has done more, and worked harder, on civil rights than any President in history. But all this wasn't enough to stop the disaster shaping up, for in the past two weeks the United States has had the most violent, riotous condition ever.

And Thursday night, a little tougher than in 1965, Johnson addressed the nation again,

Prisoner Walks Out of Hospital

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — J.D. Cook, 42, a Cummins Prison Farm inmate who had been brought to the Veterans Administration Hospital here for a physical examination, walked away from the hospital Thursday according to authorities.

Cook, of Tillar, was serving a 15-year sentence from Pulaski County for grand larceny and kidnapping. Authorities said they took Cook to the hospital for an examination and when they returned to pick him up he was gone.

Members of Commission Are Named

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's 11-member special Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders named to investigate origins of recent disorders and to recommend preventive measures, are:

— Chairman Otto Kerner, 58, a Democrat and an attorney elected Illinois governor in 1961.

— Vice Chairman John V. Lindsay, 45, a Republican and an attorney elected mayor of New York City in 1966.

— Fred R. Harris, 36, an Oklahoma Democrat elected to the U.S. Senate in 1964 after serving 10 years in the State Senate. He is an attorney.

— Edward W. Brooke, 47, a Massachusetts Republican who became last year the first popularly elected Negro member of the Senate after serving four years as state attorney general.

— William M. McCulloch, 60, an Ohio Republican elected to the House in 1947.

— James C. Corman, 46, a California Democrat elected to the House in 1960 after previous experience in private law practice and as a member of the Los Angeles City Council.

— Roy Wilkins, 65, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People since 1965 and an official of the organization since 1931.

— I.W. Abel, 58, president of the AFL-CIO United Steel Workers since 1965.

— Charles B. Thornton, 52, chairman of the board and president since 1953 of Litton Industries, Inc.

— Katherine Graham Peden, 39, a former radio station official and now Kentucky commissioner of commerce.

— Herbert Jenkins, 60, who joined the Atlanta, Ga., Police Department in 1931 and became its chief in 1947.

making a distinction between the rioters and the rest of the Negro community.

"Let there be no mistake about it," he said, "the looting, arson, plunder and pillage which have occurred are not part of the civil rights protest. Crime must be dealt with forcefully, swiftly — under law."

"The criminals who committed these acts of violence against the people deserve to be punished. Explanations may be offered but nothing can excuse what they have done."

He called for stern police action, for more legislation to ease the poverty which breeds crime, for tolerance by whites instead of anti-Negro attitudes which might result from the riots, and he set up a commission to study the riots and their causes and to make recommendations for preventing or controlling them.

Ft. Smith Bull Fight Not the First

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — The bloodless bullfight scheduled at Fort Smith tonight and Saturday night, under sponsorship of the Fort Smith Junior Chamber of Commerce, will not be the first such event for Fort Smith, according to a long time resident.

An oldtimer who calls himself "Windjammer" in letters to the editor of the Southwest Times Record said that as a youngster, he witnessed at least one bullfight in the city in 1903.

"It was staged on the football field between seventh and eighth street on Rogers Avenue at the site of the old Kansas City Southern Depot," the oldtimer said.

The field was used for such things as circuses and other events besides football. The oldtimer said that several bulls were brought in by traveling groups which put on the bullfights and charged admission.

"It was billed as a real bullfight but the humane society raised cane and the bulls were not killed," he said. "It was a bloodless bullfight although we didn't use the term then."

The oldtimer said a high fence was put up around the field, the boards running up and down. He said horses were not used in the bullfight as is common today.

Tonight's bullfight has been billed as the first bloodless bullfight to come to Arkansas. But, according to the memory of an oldtimer, it must be classed as the second time around.

Literature on the subject of bridge playing takes up more than 9,000 volumes, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Would you sell now or wait and take a chance for more profit?" Signed: Speculator. Dear Speculator: Our opinion is that a new paved street would enhance the value of your property, but I would advise you to consult your favorite real estate agent. He's in a better position to know about this situation." (To the gentleman who wrote us a question and signed it, "A man who cares" . . . if you will rewrite us the question and sign your name, we'll print your question and try to get you an answer. We will not publish your name if you don't want us to.)

Faubus Asks Action by Johnson

HUNTSVILLE, Ark. — Former Gov. Orval Faubus said Thursday in a telegram to President Johnson that the people "desire strong, decisive action at the earliest possible moment to halt the demonstrations, looting, burning and killing."

Faubus said that the federal government must cease its "consideration and tolerance" of "demonstrators, agitators and fire-bomb throwers."

Faubus said in the telegram that if Johnson does not act immediately to halt the lawlessness and violence that his "political cause will become hopeless." Faubus also said decisions by the U.S. Supreme Court, which he said favor criminals and Communists, must be condemned by Johnson. "I think the nation is going to be aroused now and any official who doesn't take a stand will be in a bad way," Faubus said.

One of Faubus' newspapers, The Statesman, carried a story on its front page Thursday in which it said that if the "so-called Little Rock affair of 1957" had occurred now, it would scarcely have been reported. Faubus was governor during the 1957 integration crisis in which federal troops were sent to Little Rock.

WATER SHORTAGE in Hong Kong brought premium prices for any kind of container that will hold water. The shortage has led to severe rationing, in which the water is turned on for one four-hour period every two days. Shopkeepers promptly raised prices on anything that can be used to store water. Droughts have dried up the tiny colony's reservoirs, and Red China refuses to sell any more water.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES FRED JOHNSON

An early evening ceremony on Friday, July 7 in the chapel of the First Methodist Church united Miss Susan Pierce and James Fred Johnson in holy matrimony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Pierce, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Fred Johnson and the late Mr. Johnson.

Mrs. B.C. Hyatt played a program of pre-nuptial music on the organ and accompanied the vocal soloist, Miss Sherry Dickinson. She sang "Because" before the double-ring ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" at its conclusion while the couple knelt on a prie-dieu. The Rev. The bride entered on the arm of her father. She wore a tent dress of white eyelet over satin. It was fashioned with long sleeves that were bell-bottomed and edged in lace. Her short veil was held in place by a white satin bow. The bride carried a white bible topped with a white orchid and fleur d'amour.

Television and Radio

By DAVID MCCALLUM

For CYNTHIA LOWRY

EDITOR'S NOTE — It is now official — network television has recovered from the acute attack of the cutes from which its action-adventure shows have suffered the last couple of seasons, and writer's and actors' tongues are at long last being withdrawn from cheeks. NBC's "Man from U.N.C.L.E." which arrived on the small screens at the peak of the James Bond furore and simulated that superhero's unshakable cool, will lead the way back to derring-do played for its suspense and excitement instead of chuckles.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — We've played it pretty tongue in cheek long enough: possibly it was even a little "too cute" last year.

To me as an actor, the most significant change in "The Man from U.N.C.L.E." will be in the attitude of the two leading characters, Napoleon Solo and Illya Kuryakin-Bob Vaughn and myself.

Now everyone on the show agrees it's time for a little less spoofing, a little more straight action-adventure. There will be more real danger and real intrigue.

Don't misunderstand, Solo and Kuryakin will still be a pretty cool team. But we'll be involved in a lot of more classical suspense than has been the case during the past year.

Producer Tony Spinner has worked up a few guidelines to achieve this classical suspense. For one thing, next year you'll find the villains are just as sharp as our heroes.

Motivation will be improved next season, too. The villains won't be sticking the blondes in torture chambers just for kicks. If they do it at all, they'll have a good reason for it.

And you won't find much sub-

THREE'S A CROWD!

Dear Helen: My friend just left, and I'm a wreck. Her I like, but her three kids, ages three, four and six, drive me through the ceiling. They're in to my refrigerator, closets, dresser drawers, constantly in and out the door, running through my house trailer, waking up our babies. I can't serve her even coffee, as they yell for something too.

This gal comes over often. I might enjoy her company, but there's no time to talk when I'm chasing after the children SHE should be watching. What do you suggest?—MRS. F.

Dear Mrs. F: You can count on it: mothers who have the wildest children visit friends of tenest, this because they can't stand staying home with the little hooligans.

Make it plain you can't have company while your babies are asleep, and other get-togethers should be "at the park, where the kids can play."

I doubt you'll hurt this gal's feelings, for anyone who repeatedly brings triple trouble in to a house trailer has got to be insensitive!—H.

Dear Helen: I am only 23 years old and getting gray hair already. I have found six or seven gray ones this week. I don't want to use rinse or dye, and have heard that if you pull out one gray hair, you'll get ten more in its place. What shall I do?—MARYANNE

Dear M: Pull the six or seven gray hairs and stop worrying. If more come: welcome to the color club!—to which at least half of all American women belong.—H.

ANOTHER LETTER FROM VIETNAM

Dear Helen: Our son, who joined the Marines in 1966, recently wrote this letter on board ship to Da Nang. I'd like to share it with you.

Dear People Back Home: I'm a rather simple type guy who gets confused when people ask me why I'm going to Vietnam. The reasons I feel I must go to fight I find summed up in my memories and my hopes for the future.

I remember sandlot baseball on Saturday morning, or electric trains if it rained. I remember first grade and all the pains of introduction to arithmetic. And I remember third grade and that big crush on a cute young thing in a pink dress. I remember fights with brothers, fights with sister, and Mom's ever-peace-making hand.

I remember high school with more pains of algebra, speech and history. I also remember proms, parties, football and basketball and, of course, I most remember that special girl who shared it all with me.

I remember the big day—graduation, when four years of miserable math and pleasant memories and friendships ended. I remember an upsurge of patriotism in remembering what a great country I lived in and the benefits I've gained because of my citizenship.

I don't remember that fateful day when I raised my hand and was sworn into the Corps.

Now here I am on my way to fight, and possibly die in Vietnam, and my memories fade into hopes.

I hope that the Creator, in whom I have learned to place my fate, will enable me to do my duty, and if it's His will, come home to my loved ones. I hope that in my absence, God will protect all those loved ones of my memories.

Most important I hope that my efforts in this war will make it possible for future generations to have such wonderful memories.

I'll remember and I hope! — L. C. Mackey, formerly of Mountain Grove, Missouri.

Tigers Go to Third in American

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

With apologies to the old Boston Braves, the Detroit Tigers may be basing their hopes for the American League pennant on soccer, rain and Denny McLain.

The Braves, who won the 1948 National League pennant with two outstanding pitchers, Warren Spahn and Johnny Sain, charged into the World Series with the battle cry: "Spahn and Sain and pray for rain."

The Tigers, with a strange combination of circumstances behind them, were allowed to pitch their ace, McLain, somewhat out of rotation Thursday night and he responded with a seven-hit, 4-0 victory over Baltimore, lifting the Tigers back into third place in the American League.

Washington took Kansas City 6-4 while Cleveland at league-leading Chicago were rained out in the other Thursday night games. Boston edged California 6-5 in 10 innings and New York whipped Minnesota 6-2 in afternoon action.

In the National League, Atlanta beat Cincinnati 4-1, Houston edged Pittsburgh 5-4 and Los Angeles beat New York 7-6 in 11 innings, in night games. Philadelphia crushed San Francisco 8-3 in the only day game. Chicago and St. Louis were not scheduled.

The Tigers, forced out of Detroit because of race riots, had four days off in Baltimore because of a combination of rain, and a stadium commitment to a soccer game.

McLain, a 23-year-old right-hander, took advantage of the rest, struck out four, walked none and kept the Orioles' hits well spread in gaining his 12th victory of the season.

It was Detroit's fifth victory in six games and lifted them into third place, 3 1/2 games back of the leading White Sox. Baltimore's loss was its sixth in seven and sent the Orioles reeling into eighth place, one percentage point back of Cleveland.

Dick McAuliffe provided the principal offensive support, driving in two runs with a homer and a single. The other Tiger runs crossed on RBI singles by Willie Horton and Ray Oyler.

Washington rushed in five men before a man was out in the first inning and coasted in against Kansas City. Cap Peterson drove in two with a homer and Frank Howard two more with a triple. Camilo Pascual picked up the victory, his 10th, although allowing homers to Rick Monday and Ramon Webster.

Boston's victory left the Red Sox one game back of Chicago, while the Angels slipped to fourth, three percentage points back of Detroit.

Reggie Smith got the winner in the 10th, leading off with a THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Officials of the Dallas Cowboys ejected from their practice field Thursday an observer who said he was a scout for the New Orleans Saints, a Cowboys spokesman said.

The man left the Cowboys' camp at Cal Lutheran without incident, but Dallas owner Tex Schramm said, "We're disturbed about this and plan to take it to the league office."

El Paso in Sweep Over Travelers

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — El Paso completed its sweep of a three-game series with the Arkansas Travelers Thursday night, whipping the Travs 8-6.

El Paso broke a 4-4 tie with four runs in the seventh inning and handed Jerry Robertson his second defeat of the season. Two walks and three hits off Robertson led to the four runs.

Jim Spencer's 15th homer of the year gave El Paso a 2-1 lead in the first inning but Biff Bracy's ninth homer of the year tied the game in the third.

El Paso regained the lead in the fourth on Jim DeNeff's solo homer. The Travs put together three hits in the seventh to tie the score.

Amarillo's league-leading Sonics swept a four-game series with Austin, beating the Braves 3-1 at Austin, Dallas-Fort Worth defeated Albuquerque 14-6 in the other Texas League game.

triple and racing home on a ground out. The Red Sox tied it with a three-run rally in the ninth, two of them on Joe Foy's home run. Carl Yastrzemski and George Scott also hit homers for Boston, while Don Mincher connected for California, a three-run blast.

Steve Whitaker doubled in the winning run for New York in a decisive three-run fifth inning rally that wiped out a 2-1 Minnesota lead. He also singled in runs in the fourth and eighth.

Hope Beats McGehee in Semi-Final

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sportswriter

Coming through as expected with a solid hitting performance, the Hope Little League All-Stars scored a smashing 15-9 victory over McGehee last night at Monticello.

The win came in the district semifinals, pushing the locals on to the finals tonight.

Jumping to an early lead in the first inning, David Huddleston climaxed a four-run blast with a smash two-run over the fence in leftfield.

Leading 5-3 going into the fourth inning, the locals really started moving. Sending 13 batters to the plate, Hope scored eight runs, three on a homer by Wade Harris.

McGehee managed several runs from then on, but winning pitcher Gary Barham went the distance, giving up 5 hits and fanning 8 batters.

Tonight Hope will challenge Smackover in the finals, with game time slated for 7:00 p.m. KXAR will broadcast the game live, with airtime set for 6:45 p.m.

Packers and All-Stars Set Aug. 4
RENSSELAER, Ind. (AP) — The College All-Stars and the Chicago Bears paraded in a 1967 football preview Thursday and both teams passed their tests with top grades.

The All-Stars, who will meet the professional champion Green Bay Packers in football's midsummer classic Aug. 4 in Chicago's Soldier Field, proved themselves capable of the task.

The Bears won 23-22 on Bruce Alford's 30-yard field goal on the last play of the practice game.

"This is one of the greatest All-Star squads I've ever seen," said Bear owner-coach George Halas after the game.

Boros Opens Minnesota With a 70
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — The sharply honed veteran Julius Boros, with three tournament titles in the bag this year, eyed the Minnesota Golf Classic as another good possibility today after an opening-round 70.

Boros tied with two lesser lights on the pro circuit in Thursday's first round over the tough Hazeltine golf course, which plays 7,220 yards with par 72.

They were Ray Floyd of St. Andrews, Ill., who won the Minnesota tournament two years ago and Dick Lotz, Hayward, Calif.

Only five others broke par in Thursday's opening round, and five others were even with it.

Missing from the tourney were such stars as Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer. But the new PGA champion, Don January, checked in. He shot 73 and tied for 11th place with 12 others.

Houston Hope Kept Alive by 3 Stars

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Houston's dynamic duo, about the only thing that has kept the Astros from falling through the bottom of the National League this season, is showing signs of becoming a threesome.

Joe Morgan, now genuinely out of the hitting slump that plagued him through the early part of the season, won a game for the Astros with a run-scoring single in the bottom of the ninth for the second straight time as Houston trimmed Pittsburgh 5-4 Thursday night.

"Look at my roomie," Jim Wynn said when it was over, "taking all the glory."

"You don't want me in the act?" answered Morgan. "You and Rusty Staub have been taking all the glory all year. It's about time you leave a little room for me."

Staub, leading the league in hitting at .358—he went three-for-four Thursday—and Wynn, tops in runs batted in with 76, have been doing most of Houston's heavy hitting till Morgan's renaissance. But despite their best efforts the club is mired in the cellar, 18 games off the pace.

In other National League games, Atlanta beat Cincinnati 4-1, Philadelphia bounced San Francisco 8-3 and Los Angeles edged New York 7-6 in 11 innings.

In the American League, Boston beat California 6-5 in 10 innings, New York took Minnesota 6-2, Detroit blanked Baltimore 4-0 and Washington downed Kansas City 6-4. Cleveland and Chicago were rained out.

Morgan, batting as low as .063 at one point in the early going, is now pounding the ball at a .295 clip and is riding an 11-game hitting streak.

Wednesday against Philadelphia, he singled in the winning run in the ninth and Thursday, after Ron Davis tied the game with a run-scoring single, Morgan came up with the winner.

The Braves got all their runs in the first inning, with Hank Aaron and Felipe Alou hitting homers that drove Sammy Ellis from the mound before he could get anybody out. Ken Johnson, 10-4, was the winner.

Billy Cowan and Bobby Wine hit homers in Philadelphia's five-run third inning and Richie Allen got his third homer in as many days in the first. John Boozer went the distance to win his third game.

Jack Fisher, the sixth Mets' pitcher wild-pitched Nate Oliver in with the winning run after the Mets had tied the score with a run in the ninth. Both teams scored three times in the eighth inning of the 3-hour, 50-minute contest.

Giants Have Lost 10 of the Last 14
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "We start a winning streak tonight," vowed Giants pitching coach Larry Jansen, San Francisco dropped its 10th game in the last 14, 8-3 to Philadelphia Thursday, and fell eight games behind National League leading St. Louis.

The Giants' bullpen has taken a beating in that stretch—30 relievers called to the mound for a total of 44 pitchers.

The former pitching star of the Giants said, "We lost 11 straight when I was pitching and won the pennant."

He recalled that that was in 1951.

Reluctant to discuss the past two weeks, Jansen said, "there's not much you can do about it. But we'll start a new, winning streak and you'll never know we were losing."

Are the relievers weary? "No," Jansen said, "Give them a day of rest and they'll all be all right."

Only two Giants have pitched complete games in that stretch.

THE GREEN BAY PACKERS go through preseason workouts under the stern eyes of coach Vince Lombardi, left, and all-pro quarterback Bart Starr. The Packers meet the College All-Stars August 4 in Chicago.

Three world swim marks were set Thursday night and two Wednesday night.

As expected, the fifth Pan-Am Games have been no-contest for Uncle Sam's huge athletic squad which has accounted for 28 gold medals out of 34 since the 20-sport carnival began Monday.

Thursday, for instance, the United States won every one of 18 finals contested except the women's 100-meter backstroke which went to the incredible Miss Tanner in a world record time of 1:07.3 and the two-lap cycle sprint won by Roger Gibson of Trinidad-Tobago.

The big U. S. gold medal grab Thursday also included two world record swimming performances, a sweep of seven individual wrestling titles, team and individual rapid fire pistol shooting crowns, the men's individual sabre titles, and men's gymnastics team and individual all-around victories.

The world aquatic marks came as 14-year-old Debby Meyer of Sacramento, Calif., slashed more than five seconds off the former world women's 400 meter free style record with a 4:32.6, and Ken Walsh, ex-Michigan State star, posted a 52.6 clocking for 100 meters as leadoff man for the winning U. S. 400-meter free style relay team.

On Wednesday world swimming records were set by the USA's Mark Spitz in the 200-meter butterfly and by Miss Tanner in the women's 200-meter backstroke.

Other gold medals were won Thursday by Charlie Hickcox, Phoenix, Ariz., in the 100-meter backstroke and Doug Russell, Midland, Tex., in the 200-meter individual medley relay, both in Pan-Am record times.

The U. S. basketball team maintained a 115-point average Thursday in crushing Panama 122-73 for a 3-0 record. Mexico, in another grouping, kept headed towards a possible title playoff with the Americans by edging Brazil 66-64, also for a 3-0 record.

The U. S. baseball team maintained a chance to meet Cuba in next week's title playoff by outlasting Canada 14-10 for a 3-1 mark.

He said the book urges a person to brush aside discouragement and build self-confidence and to think of the future instead of the past.

Jarvis was hesitant to give the book credit for his showing this season, his sophomore year in the majors. "But I can't knock it," he said, "I've gotten to where I can challenge the better better."

Although he has won consistently all season, Jarvis struggled in early games and was saved by relief work. His earned run average was high in the early season.

He said one reason for his early struggles was that he was worried about reaching the cutoff date and then worried about getting past the trade deadline.

It was somewhere between the two deadlines that Hitchcock gave him the book, he said.

U.S. Track Team Next at Pan Am

By JERRY LISKA
WINNIPEG, Canada (AP)—The sizzling Pan-American swimming pool which cooked up five world records in two days cooled off today in a comparative lull before the United States, already burdened by gold medals, sends its powerful track team into action Saturday.

The bristling U. S. swimming array which piled up nine of 11 possible gold medals in two days and fantastic 16-year-old Elaine Tanner of Canada, who accounted for two world women's backstroke marks, got a respite in the aquatic program which resumes Saturday.

That's also when Head Coach Dutch Warmerdam looses his Yank track and field team for an expected near sweep of gold medals in a weeklong 24-event program.

Three world swim marks were set Thursday night and two Wednesday night.

As expected, the fifth Pan-Am Games have been no-contest for Uncle Sam's huge athletic squad which has accounted for 28 gold medals out of 34 since the 20-sport carnival began Monday.

Albert Pike Letter in Old Scrap Book

Another From R. C. Stuart
Scrapbook Is War-Time
Editor's Farewell

In looking through an old scrap book, the property of R. C. Stuart of Columbus, one comes upon old clippings describing events long past. Some of the dates are missing, but one can tell by the names of those mentioned the year the event occurred.

The first item of local interest is the farewell of C. B. Owsley, appearing apparently in "The Courier," in which he bids his readers good-bye and in closing writes:

"Before the Courier can meet its readers again I will be far upon my road for the scene of conflict, where, I trust, with my comrades in arms to unfurl the banners of 'Old Hempstead,' in victory to the breeze. Again, kind reader, permit me to bid you adieu—it may be for years, and it may be forever—yet still in sorrow, I bid you—farewell. C. B. OWSLEY."

Another article undated, but apparently during the War Between the States, described one of the battles and announces the Hempstead dead. It reads:

"Mr. Samuel Stewart who left after the battle, arrived in town before daylight this morning bringing numerous letters to our citizens written after the fight. They all concur and are of similar import. The following from James P. Erwin, Esq., to the editor: quote—Noble did our little band stand up against 3,000 Federal until victory perched upon our flag—Several of the boys were grazed and had their clothes cut by balls, but these do not deserve the names of wounds. Amongst the number your humble servant. Yours truly, James P. Erwin."

Another is the notice of a wedding: "At this place, Thursday evening, the 3rd inst., at the residence of her father, by the Rev. Mr. Harold, chaplain of Gordon's regiment, Cabell's Brigade, Major John P. Bull, of St. Louis, Mo. (and now connected with Morgan's Arkansas Regiment) with Miss Zenobia, youngest daughter of our esteemed fellow-citizen, Simon T. Sanders."

This notice also is pasted in the book:

"At Fulton, Ark., on Thursday, March 31, 1933, by the Rev. Dr. J. Custer, Mr. Samuel C. Wheat, to Miss Mary J. daughter of Meredith W. Edwards, all of Hempstead county, Arkansas."

"Married: "At the residence of the bride's mother, near this city, on the evening of the 20th inst., Mr. James H. Chestnut and Miss Sue B. Caldwell. No Cards."

There is also quite a lengthy description of a wedding, as follows: "An elegant wedding took place yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, at the residence on Center street of Capt. Thomas H. Simms, internal revenue collector of Arkansas. The bride was his beautiful and cultivated daughter, Miss Ninette H. Simms, and the groom, Mr. Wm. L. Oates, a prominent young merchant of Hope, Arkansas, of the firm of Mitchell, Oates & Co. The approaching marriage has been an interesting topic of social circles in the city for two weeks past. In Hempstead county, where Miss Simms has been one of the loveliest and most admired daughters, the interest has been very great. During the residence of Capt. and Mrs. Simms in the city, Miss Ninette has won many warm friends."

At the appointed hour Rev. Dr. A. R. Windfield took his station in front of the marriage bell and the bridesmaids (there were no groomsmen) entered the room, dividing, two going to the left and two to the right of the minister. They were Misses Irene Ferguson, and Rosa Wallace of Washington; Miss Betty Jones of Little Rock and Miss Delaney of Nashville, Ark. The groom and his best man, Mr. W. A. Bryant of Hope, took positions on the left of the minister and then the bride, on the arm of her father entered and stood just beneath the wedding veil. The ceremony was impressive and according to the Methodist form. The bride was an extremely lovely picture as she stood pledging her faith to the manly-looking groom. She wore a handsome dress of white tulle with high collar, square court train, white point lace front; basque cut square with high rolling collar, the bridal veil falling to the end of the train, with tube roses and pearl ornaments. The bridesmaids were all handsome young ladies and wore charming dresses of cream nuns veiling, walking length trimmed with handsome lace and ornaments of rare natural flowers.

Gen. G. D. Royston who was present, brought confusion to many of the young ladies and gentlemen by his happy raillery, advising them to go and do likewise. An elegant wedding breakfast was served and afterwards the bridal party left for Hope, their future home, on the afternoon train. "Among those present, besides the immediate family, were Mrs. J. S. Cannon; Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Lowry, Judge and Mrs. B. B. Battle, Attorney General Dan W. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Rainey, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Reeves, John P. and Miss Annie May Lowry, Dr. and Mrs. L. R. Stark, Mrs. Rose Gaines, Capt. and Mrs. J. S. Whiting, Mrs. Dr. Vernon, Mrs. Florence Ware of Washington; Mrs. F. T. Vaughan, Mrs. M. G. Hall, Mrs. Dr. Luckey, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. M. D. Cantrell, W. W. Field, Dr. H. B. Williams, R. T. Cook, B. M. Brown, F. L. Royston, D. G. Hart, and R. H. Farquhar.

"The presents were numerous and elegant and included a beautiful hammered brass table lamp with iridescent pendants, and oil painting in plush frame, a handsome hand-painted lamp, hammered brass tray with iridescent jug and glasses, an elegant silver service, silver cake basket wine set and Bohemian glasses—two Rogers statuettes, "Science" and "Art," a plush clock, three handsome hand-painted pin cushions, two sets of toilet bottles—handpainted, two gold thimbles, two hand-painted trays and a handsome shell-shaped vase.

"The best wishes of many friends follow the happy young couple, and may their peace and happiness be full and over-flowing."

The next item that is of universal interest is a letter to Hon. R. H. Scott, from Albert Pike, written when that famous man had realized that mortal conquest and youth were behind him. It is such a revealing bit of literature that we quote it exactly as it appears in the clipping:

"Washington, Sept. 12, 1885

"My Dear Old Friend: "Owing to my continued absence in the northwestern territories, from the 31st of May to the end of August, your letter, which I found on my return, is only now about to be answered. "A little while before I left I had a letter from your brother... I remember Walter a little curly-pated boy, when I was once or twice at your father's home at Scotia, while I lived at Abe Smith's on Little Piney, where you and I first met, fifty-three years ago. Now I am near 75 and the few old friends that were left are dropping away one by one. Dr. Rich and Thurston, of Van Buren, whom I have hunted with so often, and so often made his house my home has just died and I am greatly depressed and distressed by his death.

"There is very little in the present that interests me now. I live among my books, pursuing my Sanskrit studies, and doing the work that devolves on me as the head of one branch of Free Masonry in the southern and western jurisdiction of the United States, rarely going out and pretty much forgotten by the world. "When I was in Arkansas last I found myself in a strange land and among a strange people and it is not probable that I shall ever be there again.

"I remember you and the few other old friends that survive, and would be glad to see you and them. But if I were to go to the state again, I could go nowhere in it without missing so many, many old friends.

"I feel more and more acutely every day the reality of the thoughts expressed in the verses I enclose herewith. They did not as truly reveal my thoughts when I wrote them as they do now.

"I am quite well and may live ten years longer, I feel no great desire to do so, though I am not yet tired of living.

"I wish you many more years of life and comfort and content. Always your friend—ALBERT PIKE. "John R. H. Scott, Esq."

Woman: "What can I do to have soft, beautiful hands?" Beauty Specialist: "Nothing, Madam. And do it all day long!"

Sidelights on Early History of Blevins

An interview with J. A. Wade, old resident of Blevins, has thrown many interesting sidelights on the early history of that place.

During the early and middle 19th century Wallaceburg was the town and Blevins was just a stage stop between Wallaceburg and Washington. The old Blevins homestead, then known as the "Blevins House" was a favorite stopping place for travelers on this old pike. Mr. Wade recalled an interesting incident that occurred while the original Mr. Blevins was living there.

One night some pioneers on their way to Texas put up at this place and one of their children was ill. The father asked Mr. Blevins for some milk for his child and Mr. Blevins complied. The next morning when the family were ready to start Mr. Blevins gave them a cow and told them to see that the child got plenty of milk. The immigrants continued on their way to Texas and the incident was forgotten. One morning about six months later Mr. Blevins got up and the first thing he saw as he looked out of the door was the same old cow standing at his front gate. Instead of "the cat" this was the cow that came home.

First Federal Judge In 1826 Judge Edward Cross came to Arkansas and settled a homestead of few miles out from Blevins. He was appointed by President Andrew Jackson judge of the Superior Court in 1832. From 36 to 38 he was Surveyor General of Public Lands and from 1838-44 he was a member of congress. While in Washington City he was appointed as Judge of the Supreme Court of Arkansas and forced to make a hazardous journey back home. Judge Cross was active in forming the Cairo & Fulton Railroad and was president of the company from 1855 to 62.

Judge Cross was a good friend of Mr. Wade and he can recall when he forty acres of land to the church which has been called Marlbrook which was the name of his home.

In Judge Cross's will he asked to be buried in the Witherspoon private cemetery at Blevins with a headstone in the form of a stump as he wished to be remembered as one of the "stumps" of Arkansas.

Mr. Wade's father died in service during the Civil War and Mr. Wade came to Blevins in 1869.

The Coldest Well

Mrs. Della McClanahan, of Hope, lived near Blevins as a child and knew Nannie and Mollie Blevins. She told of a peculiar spring or well that was on their place. When they first started using it they noticed how cold the water was, but it was just right to drink. However during the summer it began to get cold and cold until the people became afraid to drink it. Mrs. McClanahan's father had the well filled in and another one dug. Mrs. McClanahan says she wishes she had the well now. The water was so cold that frost would form around the rim of it.

In later years Blevins became a canal-tour center.

brother Billy for a trip, he remaining at home. On the return trip he met a tremendous overflow coming down the river. The whole country was under water. The current was swift and the progress of the craft slow.

Capt. Billy came to a point where there was a great bend several miles in length; could he cut across a corn field it would save him several miles of steering around the long sweep. The water looked deep enough and he ordered his pilot to cut across the field. The order was obeyed, with the result that before half a mile was covered the steamer was hard aground in the center of a corn field. The story goes that this was the last trip made by the Moss brothers' boat; that the field was a prairie, and from that time on it was called "Lost Prairie," where the "Moss brothers boat was lost."

I here relate an anecdote in connection with this disastrous evidence of Uncle Billy Moss' poor seamanship: He owned a genuine Gullah negro who spoke very poor pidgin English. This negro was his master's favorite teamster. One day in crossing the Little Missouri river in a wagon drawn by four mules, the negro miscalculated the depth of the water and was swept downstream by the rapid current. He succeeded in rescuing the mules, but the wagon and bed floated down the river and was not recovered until some days afterward. Capt. Billy berated the negro roundly for his apparent carelessness "Pretty caper that," he said, "to turn your wagon into a steam boat."

The negro, remembering Capt. Billy's unfortunate experience as a navigator, quickly retorted: "Massa Billee, which am-a de worse? to tun de dagon into de steamboat-a, or tun de steamboat-a into de corn-crib-a?"

First Kidnap

rescue. Despite all efforts it was impossible to determine the little fellow's fate and the parents were left in this painful state of suspense until they had given up all hopes of ever seeing their child alive again.

The kidnaping occurred during the early part of October, 1825 and it was not until November 1826 that Mr. and Mrs. Clark received a letter postmarked October 2nd, Natchez, Miss.

This letter, signed one Thomas Tutty (the writer said was not his real name) offered for the sum of $200 to restore the child to his parents. Fifty dollars of this sum was to be enclosed in a letter addressed to him at Natchez.

This was believed by the parents to be a trick to swindle them out of their money, but they decided to comply in the faint hope that it may lead to some discovery. They laid their plans, but in such a way as to not be imposed upon.

Mrs. Clark immediately set out for Natchez, where through the agency of a friend she mailed a letter with a $50 note in it, after making arrangements with the postmaster to secure anyone who might apply for it. Accordingly in the course of two or three days a man who said his name was Thomas Tutty, but whose real name turned out to be Edward H. Morris, a pretended schoolmaster who had passed through Washington the year before on his way to Texas claimed the letter. He was immediately seized and lodged in jail. However, when interrogated Morris obstinately refused to give any clue by which the little boy could be found. He did, however, say that Thomas was within 15 miles of the city of Natchez. Accordingly quite a large number of the citizens turned out and examined every suspected place near the city, but discovered no traces of the little boy.

Mr. Clark then posted a $500 reward and Mrs. Clark returned to Washington. When the parents had despaired of ever seeing their little son again a young man of Washington, Mathew Moss, made a business trip to New Orleans. While there he happened to overhear a conversation between some men about a family who had had a little boy left with them some time back. He remembered the kidnaping of little Thomas Clark and immediately made inquiries. The evidence was enough that he notified the parents and they left at once for the city.

They went to this home and identified the child by a scar on his head. When they got him back home he further established his identity by going to a hole in the wall and saying he wanted his clock. No one knew what he meant until some of the family recalled that little Thomas had had a clock carved out of wood to play with before he was abducted. The family investigated and found the same play-clock, so this incident left no doubt as to whether he was little Thomas or not.

Mr. Clark was an officer at this time and he was chosen to go after the kidnaper. The party made the trip and all returned safely but the abductor, and the story is told that he was riding handcuffed when he got down to get a drink from a stream. In so doing he lost his balance and fell in and drowned.

Thomas grew to manhood on the farm about six miles from Washington he then moved to Texas where he lived to reach a ripe old age.

"Mary, aren't you getting too big to play with boys?" "No, mher, the bigger I get the better I like 'em."

He: "The girl I marry must have a sense of humor." She: "Don't worry, she will have."

Long-Winded Lecturer: "If I have talked too long, it's because I haven't any watch with me and there isn't a clock in the hall."

Student: "Yes, but there's a clock behind you."

The City Worth

The City Worth
Trading In

The Hope municipal water company started over half a century ago with an old fashioned well and water pump, located on Division Street across from Greene's. Dan Ferguson was the first operator. Electric lights made their first appearance in Hope in 1890 when electricity was generated at the old Hope Lumber Company, operated by Capt. J. T. West. The city purchased the generator and the Lumber company furnished the steam power.

These first plants soon became inadequate to supply the demand for the necessary utilities. A few years later a second well was drilled on the present site of the power plant and a larger generator installed at the same location. Again the plant became inadequate to supply the demand and a part of the present plant was constructed in 1909. At this time mains and modern cast iron pipes were laid. Mr. Womack was the first superintendent of the new plant. From this time the plant has been ably managed, in order named, by Mr. Sexton, Mr. C. M. Richards, Mr. George Sandefur, and the present manager, Mr. Arch Moore. Mr. Joe D. Brown who is present engineer has been with the plant for 21 years. At present, the plant supplies utilities to 1,262 light meters and 1,400 water meters.

The electric plant has three turbines; one, 500 KWH, and two 1,000 KWH. The water department has four deep wells. Two 600 feet and two, 1400 feet in depth. Two reservoirs are used for storage; one, a 200,000 gallon capacity and one a 500,000 gallon capacity.

At present the plant is using wood exclusively for fuel which is purchased locally in lots of 1/2 cord upward. The picture on the left shows the large wood-yard on highway 4 in the northwest part of Hope. From December 5, 1934 to April 12, 1936 a period of sixteen months, the city purchased $21,277.36 worth of wood.

Listening to the tramping feet of Hope's oncoming generations has been the guiding principle of Hope city government during the past five decades.

The City Hall, the modern municipal center, was constructed in 1927 at a cost of approximately $80,000.00. The building has ample room for all civic offices and also a large auditorium for all city affairs.

A modern fire department has been developed from the old bucket brigade of the "eighties." The present department has a personnel of sixteen paid firemen, headed by Chief J. K. Sale. Three modern trucks have been purchased and put into use; one, a new Seagrave pumper, costing $9,000.00.

The police department has six members under the leadership of Chief John Ridgill. It has been effective in providing safety for Hope.

IN ALL, A PROGRESSIVE CITY.

MOSCOW (AP) - Under the headlines " Tanks and Machine Guns against Negroes" and
"Detroit in Flames," Pravda devoted more than half a page today to reports on U.S. racial troubles.

"America is living through alarming days," wrote the New York Communist party newspaper, Boris Strelnikov.
"America is paying for the torment, tears and blood of its dark-skinned citizens," Strelnikov said. "But it pays by their own tears and by their own blood, dooming them to still greater suffering."

APPEALS FOR HELP seem to be going out in all direc-plastic cocoon to insure purity welding on titanium jet engine parts in a Cleveland, Ohio, plant. Gloved arms permit the operator to handle welding equipment in a pressured atmosphere of inert gas, at TRW's, formerly Thompson, Ramo, Wooldridge, Inc., of Cleveland, plant.

FOOD MAIN Problem in Riot Area
DETROIT (AP) - The massive task of providing riot refugees with food - and providing it fast - faced Mayor Jerome Cavanagh's Committee on Human Resources Development today.
"Housing's not the problem," said Ralph Rosenfield, an assistant to Director Philip Rutledge.
"Food is."

Rosenfield said a hotel taken over by the city for the purpose of finding places for refugees to live had attracted only eight families.
"Apparently they're moving in with friends," he said.
Officials could only guess that there are from 300 to 3,000 homeless.

Harried Detroit authorities could offer no breakdown now on destruction but said at least 1,500 businesses were looted and there were more than 1,500 to 3, 000 damaged or destroyed buildings. Many fires had left an undetermined number of families, living in tenements a above burned stores, homeless, officials said.

Offers of places to stay in neat, peaceful and nearly all-white neighborhoods went almost unheeded.
"We're all responsible for these things happening now," said Bush, a manager for the Detroit Edison Electric Co. "I think there are lots of good people in this area and this type of action may help improve their understanding and improve their acceptance of their own responsibilities."

Across the Detroit River police in Windsor reported many displaced persons had sought refuge in Canada. Many Negroes, police said, had crossed the river in boats and were staying with friends.

Border restrictions, eased for the first time since the rioting broke out, made it "easier to get out of Detroit than to get in," a U.S. Immigration official said.
But back in the riot-ridden areas of the nation's fifth largest city, the problem was not so much finding a place to live.
It was finding a way to live.

Incomplete estimates by the committee indicated thousands of people would be out of jobs after the mess is cleaned up - because their places of work have been destroyed, left as twisted steel girders growing as strange weeds from beds of rubbish brick.

How to get the food to the uncounted thousands was a major problem. But where to get the food to give them was a bigger one.
A vanload of cold cereal had been donated by a breakfast food producer, the Interfaith Emergency Center which was established to meet the crisis, reported. A spokesman for the center said a dairy came through with 500 half-gallon containers of much needed milk.
And the Wayne County AFL-CIO Council set up a motor transport pool to deliver the goods, the spokesman added.

Other than milk, the committee sought only staple foods.
Food distribution centers were set up in churches throughout the city.
Many were giving out food on a meal-a-meal basis. Others were providing it on a daily basis. "Hoarding could become a problem," Rosenfield said.
Milk was reported in one case as being sold for a dollar a quart.

DOCTOR'S MAILBOX
Ear Wax Removable; Loss Of Hearing Temporary.

 By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
 Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

 Q—It feels as though something is crawling in my right ear. What could this be?

 A—Insects do at times gain access to the ear canal but your ear wax tends to discourage them. When this is not the cause, the sensation you describe is closely related to itching and may be due to a wide variety of causes including seborrheic dermatitis, eczema and ringworm. In some persons the cause is excessive earwax.

 Q—I have a staphylococcus aureus infection in my ear. I have seen seven doctors but they have not cured it. What do you advise?

 A—You do not say whether this infection is in your middle ear or the external canal.
 Most staphylococcal infections can be cured with penicillin.
 If the infection is chronic the germs have undoubtedly become resistant to penicillin and an antibiotic to which they are sensitive must be found.

 Q—Is it harmful to put water or peroxide in your ears? Could this cause water on the brain in time?

 A—If there is no perforation of your ear drum, water in your ear will do no harm, but in most persons it causes an unpleasant sensation. It will not cause water on the brain. Peroxide is often placed in the ear to soften a plug of earwax.

 Q—Could too much earwax affect one's hearing? Could diet reduce the production of wax?

 A—When the wax hardens and plugs the external canal the victim becomes hard of hearing but his normal hearing is restored at once when the plug is washed out. I know of no way to cut down the production of earwax.

 Q—What would cause an ear to become blocked even when you don't have a cold?

 A—I assume you are referring to blockage of the eustachian tube that leads from the eardrum to the area where the nose joins the throat. Small blobs of mucus often block this tube even when the lining of the tube is not swollen by a cold. When this happens it can be relieved by yawning, chewing gum or, as a last resort, by holding your nose and trying to blow with your mouth closed.

Wounded GI Rescued as Helicopters Drop Into Vietnam Jungle

By PETER ARNETT
ALONG THE CAMBODIAN BORDER, Vietnam (AP) — An Army helicopter dropped a wounded GI into the jungle, and another helicopter landed nearby to rescue him.

Five Chief Charles J. Quinlan, who was shot in the chest, was rescued by a helicopter. The helicopter landed in the jungle, and the wounded GI was carried out. The helicopter then flew to a nearby base.

Buildings were hit by the blacked shells of buildings on 12th Street. Others have been marked for destruction by demolition teams.

Hordes of rats have appeared in ruined stores and buildings. The city prepared to fight them with nearly two tons of poisoned bait.

Food lines grew on the West Side while the city and charitable organizations hurried to meet a growing demand. The tons of canned food collected by church groups in Windsor, Ont., waited across the river for delivery.

Elsewhere on the racial scene there were these developments: Chicago—Mayor Richard J. Daley said live ammunition will be used if rioting breaks out there. "It will be live cartridges," Daley said Thursday. "We know this is a national program of outlaws and violence, and it could break out here."

New York—Mayor John V. Lindsay inspected the fashionable shopping area in mid-Manhattan where groups of young Negroes smashed store windows Wednesday. "Vastly exaggerated," he said of first reports of the damage.

Philadelphia—Mayor James H. J. Tate proclaimed a state of limited emergency after scattered disorders in predominantly Negro districts.

South Bend, Ind.—National Guardsmen remained on stand-by duty after Negroes rioted over the wounding by police of seven Negro youths.

Johnson, in announcing the new commission, declared Sunday a day of prayer for racial peace.

The President said: "Let us condemn the violent few. But let us remember that it is law-abiding Negro families who have suffered most at the hands of the Negro rioters. It is responsible Negro citizens who hope most fervently—and need most urgently—to share in America's prosperity."

In Detroit, officials expressed optimism.

"There is great improvement," said Romney, "but the problem is to make sure that law and order are restored. I hope it's over but we're not certain."

Mayor Jerome B. Cavanagh met with 500 business and civic leaders to formulate a program for healing the city's wounds.

It's hardest-hit streets look exactly like areas brought under artillery fire.

Only the shell of a nice-looking apartment house still stands; girders hang at crazy angles; water from a torn pipe gushes down the debris in another building; smoke curls lazily from the rubble of what had been an automobile tire store; the boarded up windows of a food store carry the sign, "Open for Business."

Liquor stores are closed. So are the bars. Restaurants shut down early so that employees can be home before the curfew.

er a conspiracy has been involved. Officials said earlier this week the FBI has not independently investigated riots. An FBI official said the bureau would have no immediate comment on Johnson's remark.

Johnson, blamed for the riots by the Republican Coordinating Committee, hit back at GOP Congress members who have opposed his social legislation—mechanical process, Lynch said, "a complete destruction and neutralization of the area" with heavy gunfire.

A total of 170 Communists were killed; 19 Americans were dead.

Alive amid the destruction were Pfc. York and 10 others in his platoon, all wounded. York had managed to bite through his ropes, had dragged his mangled legs through the jungle to join up with some of his buddies, and gave a weak, painful cheer as the rescue troops arrived.

Russia Has Lead in Space Age

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union leads the United States in most major space programs, U.S. space chief James E. Webb has told Congress.

Sen. Spessard L. Holland, D-Fla., a member of the Senate Space Committee, said he was amazed at Webb's assertions of Soviet space superiority.

"That's far different from his testimony on the space authorization," Holland told the Senate Appropriations Committee before which Webb testified Wednesday.

Webb, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, warned senators they will have great concern if the Soviets "are putting very heavy payloads overhead every hour and a half."

He indicated the Soviet payloads might involve missiles or other weapons.

Webb appeared before the panel to battle for the full $5.1 billion in space funds sought by President Johnson. The House earlier voted to cut $123 million from the space authorization, while the Senate chopped out $249 million.

Race War Confronts Pentagon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon is hard pressed to say whether Cyrus R. Vance has a legal basis in claiming "ultimate responsibility" for Army operations in Detroit.

Under the military chain of command, Lt. Gen. John L. Throckmorton is in charge of paratroopers ordered by President Johnson into the besieged city and federalized National Guardsmen.

But Vance, former deputy defense secretary who is on the scene as Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's special assistant, said Wednesday that while Throckmorton is the military leader "ultimate responsibility for his actions resides in me."

The Pentagon, questioned about this, described Vance's role in less clearcut terms.

Throckmorton, as commander of the special Task Force Detroit, "is directly responsible to the chief of staff of the Army," Gen. Harold K. Johnson, the Pentagon said.

Throckmorton is under instructions, the Pentagon added, to "be responsive to Mr. Vance's instructions, keeping the chief of staff of the Army informed."

There is no indication that Vance and Throckmorton have had any disputes over the deployment of troops during Detroit's rioting.

Negro School Gets a Pool

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A 21-year-old white student at San Francisco State College has brought the Hunters Point-Bayview Negro area its first swimming pool.

Pat Bell said the city Parks and Recreation Department told him a pool was not worthwhile because of cool weather and lack of bathing suits. But he persisted and got backing from police, civic and business groups and others.

The results: $5,500 in cash, $1,500 in pledges and an order for a new portable swimming pool 25 by 50 feet long with a heater. It'll be legally owned by Youth for Service, with two other neighborhood groups sharing management.

13 Chinese Chiefs Rebel Against Mao

HONG KONG (AP) — Commanders of 13 Red Chinese military districts have turned against both party Chairman Mao Tse-tung and his rival, President Li Shao-chi, and offered to back Premier Chou En-lai as the country's new leader, the Hong Kong Star reported today.

The report followed accounts from Radio Peking of a military revolt against Mao in the big central Chinese industrial complex of Wuhan and of gigantic anti-Liu demonstrations in Peking and other cities.

The Australian-owned Star quoted sources inside China as saying the dissident generals made four demands: (1) That Mao be kicked upstairs and made a national figurehead; (2) That Lin Biao resign as defense minister; (3) That Liu and his supporters also resign; and (4) That the ninth People's Congress be held soon to "adjust the roles of the party, army and civil administrators throughout China."

Johnson responded hours before his speech that emergency drugs, hospital equipment and some food would be made available. He did not mention the request for the disaster designation—for which there is no precedent in a riot situation. But press secretary George Christian said the matter was under study.

Polyandry is the practice of having more than one husband.

New Devices to Fight Air Pollution

Wash Jobs for City Air

The time-tested method of cleaning anything soiled by scrubbing it is being applied to the air-pollution problem, according to some exhibits at the 60th annual Air Pollution Control Conference in Cleveland recently. Several of the devices swirl harmful fumes containing chemicals and dusts from industry and automobiles through liquids for a quick wash job.

THIS SCRUBBER works on a centrifugal principle for wet removal of fumes and dust from air streams.

NOT A WASHER, BUT A WATCHDOG is the mobile test station, above, for measuring automobile emissions. Such stations will be needed for surveillance of in-service performance of exhaust control devices, as shown top center, required by federal law on all new cars starting with 1968 models. Top left is a machine that washes dirt from the air by means of water squirting from pinjets. At left is a unit that draws acid fumes through ducts and scrubs them in a water and caustic solution combination.

Toil and Trouble
Postage Rises
as Dollar Drops

Today winds up your editor's stint on the news desk as Managing Editor Paul H. Jones returns from vacation next week. One of our waggish staffers came up with the crack that Gene Allen, process cameraman, took off on vacation, and immediately war broke out between Israel and the Arabs; and just as soon as Paul Jones left we had civil war in America—and now everyone's wondering what'll happen when the editor takes off. Oh, yeah! I don't know about the rest of the world, but your editor will be fishing, taking pictures—and dodging telephones and headlines.

The House Post Office Subcommittee yesterday cleared for the full committee and almost certain passage a bill calling for stiff increases in postage rates.

First class mail will go from 5 to 6 cents. Postcards will rise from 4 to 6. Airmail is to be up from 8 to 10, and airmail cards from 6 to 10.

Second class mail, newspapers and magazines, will feel its share of the bite. The old minimum of 1 cent goes to 1.3 cents in three stages, a 30 percent increase.

You say, postage is up. But it would be more nearly correct to say the dollar is down. We used to measure goods and services by the dollar, but in days of runaway government spending the dollar is discredited—the dollar itself is being measured in terms of prices for goods and services.

Try that on your federal politicians—and watch them squirm!

Says Prison Exploitation Has Ended

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Asst. Prison Supt. Thomas O. Murton told members of the Arkansas Legislative Council Thursday he felt that his major accomplishment since being at Tucker Prison Farm has been the "elimination of financial exploitation of the prisoners."

Murton told about 25 state legislators that jobs, privileges and food are no longer sold. "The men can shave and can get a haircut without having to pay someone for them," Murton said.

Murton gave the legislators a 14-page report on changes he had made instead of explaining his reforms to the group.

"What we're trying to do down here is to demonstrate that you can run a prison without brutality," Murton said. The legislators seemed more impressed by spotless floors and tidy beds at Cummins Prison Farm. They remarked about the unkempt beds and dirt and trash on the floor at Tucker.

"My policy is never to prepare for an inspection," Murton said. "What you see here is the way it is."

Last Nuclear Power Item Is on Site

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The last big piece of equipment in the Southwest Experimental Fast Oxide Reactor, the 11-ton reactor vessel, has arrived at the SEFOR site 17 miles southwest of here.

SEFOR is designed to generate power by converting uranium fuel into usable plutonium fuel and is co-sponsored by General Electric Co. and a group of 17 electric power companies in Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri and Texas known as the Southwest Atomic Energy Associates. The program cost $25 million.

The reactor is scheduled to begin operating in May, 1968. The exterior building of SEFOR is 90 per cent completed. C. O. Nelson, chief construction engineer of General Electric, told newsmen and power company officials from the seven states Thursday. Nelson said that when the reactor vessel is placed inside the 110-foot reactor it will be completed.

Marines Go in DMZ for Enemy Guns

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Marines invaded the southern half of the demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam today for the second time in the war. Their targets were the North Vietnamese mortar and artillery positions which have been shelling Leatherneck posts just south of the zone.

The U.S. Command also announced another dogfight over North Vietnam with a MIG21 probably shot down and seven U.S. plane losses over the North which had not been revealed before.

Men of the 9th Marine Regiment moved into the demilitarized zone before dawn just north of Con Thien, the Leatherneck outpost 10 miles from the South China Sea where a Red barrage killed 2 Marines and wounded 12 Thursday night.

There was no immediate report that the Marines had encountered any enemy opposition. It was the first American penetration into the three-mile-wide southern half of the zone since May 19, when the Marines and South Vietnamese troops invaded the southern sector to root out North Vietnamese gun posts.

The allied force withdrew after a week.

A U.S. Command said since then the Communists have again begun digging in artillery and mortars.

The latest dogfight took place Thursday when a pair of MIG21s tried to jump an Air Force reconnaissance flight north of Hanoi but were attacked by a pair of Air Force Phantom flying escorts.

The MIGs dived with the Phantoms in pursuit and one Phantom pilot fired a Sidewinder missile. "The missile was right on the MIG's tail when the Red disappeared into a cloudbank," the pilots said. The Air Force scored it as the 11th probable MIG kill of the war.

The plane losses announced today brought the total number U.S. combat planes reported lost over the north to 624. The rate of losses over the north is now running at slightly more than one plane daily.

U.S. Command said the latest jet downed was an Air Force Phantom Wednesday, with both crewmen listed as missing.

No details were given on the other losses but it was understood they were downed during the past week.

Air strikes against North Vietnam continued undiminished Thursday. U.S. headquarters said 150 missions were flown, mostly against supply lines between the Hanoi-Haiphong area and the 17th parallel border with South Vietnam. But one Air Force group hit the rail line connecting Hanoi with the industrial area of Thai Nguyen 40 miles above the capital.

The Marine penetration of the demilitarized zone was the most significant ground action reported although the U.S. Command said scattered contacts were made throughout the nation and 35 major infantry operations were in progress.

Presumably the Marine operation will be a brief foray into the zone. However, a military spokesman would say only that the Marines were in the zone for "the destruction of neutralization of enemy artillery and mortar positions south of the Ben Hai River."

B52 bombers mauled enemy positions about 60 miles north-east of Saigon Thursday night and returned Friday morning to Kontum Province in the central highlands near the Laotian border where they hit at trails and troop concentrations.

DE QUEEN, Ark. (AP) — Felix C. Muldoon Jr., 27, of Ganniss (Polk County) was killed Thursday night in a one-car accident 12 miles northwest of here.

Police said he apparently lost control of his car, which overturned at a curve on a Sevier County road.

Muldoon was alone in the car.

Cool Heads Avoid a Riot in Tense Negro Pittsburgh Section

By G. DAVID WALLACE
PITTSBURGH, PA. (AP) — It was a perfect night for a race riot.

Sounds carried plainly on the hot, stagnant summer air through the caverns of Pittsburgh's crowded, heavily Negro North Side.

T-shirted men, and women in sweat-stained dresses sat in little clusters on their front stoops, chattering, laughing, watching.

But conversations ended in mid-sentence, and heads turned. A crowd was forming down the street.

Surrounded by the swelling crowd, two white patrolmen had arrested a Negro youth. They were waiting for a wagon, but it was slow in coming.

"What are you doing with him?" shouted the boy's father. He ain't done nothing. Dirty cops!

There was a flurry of pushing and shoving. But neighbors held their friends back. The wagon arrived, and the youth was whisked away.

"The only thing that saved us was the cool heads in the crowd who brought the situation under control," Public Safety Director David Craig said later.

It was Negroes who stifled what could have been the first race riot in Pittsburgh.

For although mobs have rampaged through nearly every major city in the country, the Stee City has been spared.

Moving through the Hill District—a throbbing conglomeration of aging row houses, narrow cobblestone streets and abandoned store fronts overlooking the downtown business center—you can't get away from the quiet, steady job being done by the Negroes themselves, just as they stopped the North Side fracas before it blew into a riot.

"I know plenty of kids who would love to have a riot so they could say, 'Yeah, we had a big riot in Pittsburgh. We're as hip as the young kids in Philly and Harlem,'" said Ken Garrison, 28, a YMCA employee talking. He's a slender, street worker who preaches "Black Dignity," one of the group working hard with members of their own race to eliminate the frustration, disappointment and squalor that spawn riotism.

His day starts at the Center Avenue YMCA in his office, which has just a desk and a bare light bulb overhead. The phone rests on the floor.

After calling parents to set up appointments for the evening, he meets a group of teen-agers. They want to block off a street so younger children will have some place to play. He explains how.

"Then I just stroll the streets, observing, seeing who's going where," he says.

"About noon the teen-agers appear. I just watch the groups, not approaching them, just watching. I try to spot who the leaders are."

"I knock off for awhile and then go back out in the evening. And this is when things get tough."

"I'm competing with the pushers. I'm competing with the pimps. I'm even competing with the junkies."

"I use these guys. I take a pimp into the back of a pool room with the kids and have him tell what his life is like."

"You can see the change in these kids. They see how this guy lives and take a negative attitude. Of course, it doesn't work with all of them."

Garrison says most of his contacts are informal—conversations during a break in a basketball game or on street corners.

"We place emphasis on education and employment," he says. "And we also place a great deal of emphasis on pride."

"We constantly preach blackness is beautiful to the kids. We place a lot of emphasis on their black heritage."

"We put black pride in the kids without the 'Kill Whitey.'"

Byrd Brown, a lawyer who's president of the local National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, says he doesn't know whether there are any object lessons here for other cities.

"We have no problems meeting with the power structure," he says. "They react to crisis situations, instead of their necks getting stiff and red. In some places they won't even sit down with you."

He says Pittsburgh Negroes can be difficult to prod into action.

"For one thing we have percentage-wise a lower Negro population than most other urban centers."

Brown says there is another factor damping Negro militancy in Pittsburgh.

"We've had some Negroes—usually the more aggressive, intelligent ones—who have made a place for themselves. So there's some hope."

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Vietnam war and domestic rioting are cited in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee for its sharp cutback in President Johnson's foreign aid proposals.

Committee Chairman J. W. Fulbright said he and other members who voted to cut $736.8 million from the measure feared domestic programs—some aimed at quelling riot-inducing conditions—were suffering because of Vietnam and other U.S. commitments overseas.

The President asked $3.46 billion in foreign aid authorizations for the fiscal year which began July 1.

The 20 per cent committee reduction includes $205 million cut from the military aid section, which Johnson set at $596 million.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, who led the move to cut back the arms program, said the changes could lead to a cutoff of U.S. military aid in programs and countries where "it ought not to have been started in the first place."

A parade of administration spokesmen, led by Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, appeared before the committee this week to plead for approval of the program as submitted by the President.

The committee completed action Thursday. Fulbright reported developments at a news conference. Actual appropriation of foreign aid money is considered after authorizations are set.

Fulbright, a persistent critic of administration foreign policy, said he would not manage the bill on the floor, an assignment ordinarily handled by a committee chairman, and added: "I think I'll vote against it."

Insurance Adjusters Check Detroit

By PHIL THOMAS
NEW YORK (AP) — Insurance men are poking through blackened ruins and smashed storefronts in riot-scarred cities across the country to prepare for damage claims totaling millions of dollars.

Property damage in Detroit alone is estimated at $200 million.

"It's going to be high, there's no question on that," says a spokesman for the Insurance Information Institute in New York.

The General Adjustment Bureau, Inc., says it has sent additional insurance adjusters into the Detroit area but adds that "we anticipate it will be several days before our people will be allowed to enter and make surveys of the more seriously damaged areas."

The bureau sends additional men into heavily damaged areas to help regular insurance company adjusters speed up claims procedures.

The adjusters went to Newark, N.J., after that city was ripped by riots two weeks ago. The Newark riots caused an estimated $15 million in property damage.

No complete accounting has been made of the property damage in the current widespread racial violence and probably won't be for months. One estimate puts the nationwide total of homes destroyed or damaged at 428 and the number of businesses at nearly 4,000. That does not include buildings in riot-ridden neighborhoods that officials have not yet entered.

A question arose after the riots in the Watts area of Los Angeles in 1965 as to whether insurance policies covered property damage inflicted during the battling.

The City of Los Angeles, which is self-insured, has denied all property damage claims, of which nearly 1,000 have been filed, on grounds that it is not responsible for rioting. Some officials said the riots were an insurrection. The same description has been made by some in the Detroit and Newark troubles.

Most property insurance policies do not cover damages caused by war or insurrection, but do give financial protection against riots.

The Insurance Brokers Association of California held that the Watts riots fell within the insurance definition of civil commotion and thus were an insured peril.

"We paid $44 million as a result of the Watts riots," says the institute spokesman.

William Shumake, a special assistant in New Jersey's State Department of Banking and Insurance, said this week that insurance companies would be required to pay for riot damage claims.

Shumake said that although the Newark trouble had been called a "criminal insurrection" this "is not being used as a defense by any company we know of nor will it be permitted to."

A question also arose as to whether the riots would lead to insurance policy cancellations and rate increases.

Horace J. Bryant, New Jersey's deputy commissioner of banking and insurance, said the state would not tolerate "wholesale terminations of insurance contracts and refusal to renew policies." Bryant added, "If a company terminates a policy, or refuses to renew, tell us. We have the power to act."

Rioting a Crime, Not Civil Rights Fight, President Declares

Racial War Cools Off Across U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Civil disorder throughout the nation abated in intensely today, but Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh, touring his strife-torn city, was caught in cross-fire as snipers and police and National Guardsmen exchanged shots.

The mayor was unhurt and apparently calm from the only incident of significance during the quietest night since last Sunday. The Detroit death toll went to 39—four more than perished in the Watts area of Los Angeles in 1965.

President Johnson proclaimed this Sunday a national day of prayer for racial peace.

The President, addressing the nation on television and radio Thursday night, named an 11-member commission to search out the causes of the summer rioting and suggest ways to avoid it in the future.

"We have endured a week such as no nation should live through; a time of violence and tragedy," Johnson said. "The violence must be stopped; quickly, finally and permanently."

Henceforth all National Guard units will be given intensified riot control training, he said, to better enable them to deal with the outbreaks.

Johnson also took the occasion to hit back at GOP critics who have blamed him for the rioting, citing the
